St. Stanislaus College Opens To-Day With Gulfport Academy

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss., Oct. 12.—St. Stanislaus College will open its 1916 football activities by meeting the Gulf Coast Military Academy, of Gulfport, here Saturday afternoon. Coach Commagere has groomed a great team, and the results are being anxiously awaited by friends of the Bay institution.

Coach Commagere will try out nearly every candidate in this game. In the backfield he will choose from Gannon, McKinney, Tyce, Maher, Ansley and Reisch, while in the line he will choose from Curtis, Blanchet, Reid, Lopez, Begnaud, Arms, Martinez, Dabazie, Wolf, Moore, Neelis, Miazza, Shannon, Kelly, Lala and Tirquit.

The game will start at 2 o'clock.

Justin Green, Tulane, will referee, while the umpire will be chosen from either Marshal, L. S. U.; Boyle, Mississippi College, or Semmes, Walmsley, Tulane.

Coach Commagere announces closing the following dates: Oct. 18, Tulane Seconds; Oct. 28, Rugby, both at the Bay; and Nov. 4, Jefferson College, at Heinemann Park, New Orleans.

Games are pending with Bogalusa High, Poplarville Agricultural School, New Orleans Boys' High and Loyola University. The Ramblers, an independent football organization, have asked for a date and will be accommodated on Nov. 12, provided Coach Commagere cannot fill this date with a school team.

St. Stanislaus Beats Gulf Coast 65 to 0

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 14.—St. Stanislaus College of Bay St. Louis overwhelmed Gulf Coast Military Academy here this afternoon 65-0. At no time did the Gulfport team threaten the locals' goal, while Commagere's fast back field tore through their opponents' line at will.

Long broken field runs by Tyce, Moore and McKinney featured the lopsided game. Time and again one of these men would streak through the Gulf Coast defense for long gains. McKinney made several beautiful runs, the longest of which was 70 yards for a touchdown. Moore, who substituted for Meelis, made one touchdown on an 80-yard run, while Tyce registered another tally after a 60-yard run. Gulf Coast put up a hard fight, but was utterly outclassed.

St. Stanislaus will play its next game Wednesday afternoon, meeting the Tulane Scrubs at Bay St. Louis.

The line-up:

Gulf Coast M. A.—Osborne, lc; Addem, rc; Weil, lt; Wilkin, rt; Lawhorn, c; Kimbrough, rg; Newson, lg; Plunty, fb; Buchelew, lb; Scruggs, qb; Campbell, rhb.

St. Stanislaus—Curtis, lc; Blanchet, lt; Begnaud, lg; Reed, c; Martinez, rg; Barbelez, rt; Meelis, re; Maher, q; Tyce, fb; McKinney, rhb; Gannon, lb.

Officials: Thibault, referee; Green, Tulane, umpire; Boyle, U. of M., head linesman.

TULANE SUBS PLAY AT BAY

WHILE Varsity is playing Mississippi College at Jackson, Miss., Friday, Tulane's seconds will be tackling St. Stanislaus at Bay St. Louis. Rugby of New Orleans was to play St. Stanislaus, but Rugby canceled the game because her boys were considered too light to go against Foster Commagere's eleven.

Tulane subs who are going to the Bay are: Romain, Legendre, Walters, McLeilan, W. Barnes, Stuckey, Linfield, Parker, Maguire, Orr, Weston, George Wiegand, Leggett, McClendon, Black, Jones, Assistant Manager McCutcheon.

Jefferson Plays Bay Team Here

Jefferson College of Convent and St. Stanislaus College of Bay St. Louis will meet Saturday afternoon at Heinemann Park to battle for the prep school championship of Louisiana and Mississippi.

St. Stanislaus has been "cleaning up" with all the teams it has met, and Coach Foster Commagere believes his squad can take the measure of the fast Jeffersonians. Jefferson, compelled to go out of its class for games, has been showing up exceptionally well against heavy university teams.

Considerable interest is being shown in the prep school race in the two states. Gulf Coast Military Academy was put out of the running early in the season by St. Stanislaus. St. Paul's College of Covington, Southwestern Industrial Institute of Lafayette and Ruston all have been in the running. The team which turns in the best record at the end of the season will be recognized as the championship squad.

The game Saturday is expected to bring together two well trained and speedy elevens.

St. Stanislaus Fit For Hard Battle With Jefferson

Reports from Bay St. Louis are that the St. Stanislaus College football team will put its strongest eleven on the field against Jefferson College at Heinemann Park Saturday afternoon.

With the exception of Captain and Fullback Nathan Tyer, who suffered a sprained shoulder in Friday's game against the Tulane second team, St. Stanislaus' regulars are said to be in the best of shape. Tyer will be on edge for Saturday's game, it is believed.

Jefferson also is nursing its fullback and star player, Rabenhorst, whom tarred in the game here with Tulane, still retains scars of that fight, but it is not thought his injuries will keep him out of the Jefferson clash.

The game will start at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Officials have not been named yet, but they probably will be Halligan, Gormley and Walmsley.

COLLEGES TO CLASH SATURDAY

Jefferson and St. Stanislaus Football Teams Meet at Heinemann Park This Afternoon.

With four local football teams playing on the road Saturday, the Jefferson-St. Stanislaus game at Heinemann Park occupies the local limelight. The game will start promptly at 3:15 in the afternoon. This will be the first time that these schools have met for several years, and both are confident of scoring a victory to celebrate the renewal of relationship.

Judging by the past performances of both teams it looks as though Jefferson has the edge on the Bay St. Louis eleven, although St. Stanislaus has a strong squad, and may spring a surprise. From all other angles, the teams seem evenly matched. Jefferson has the advantage of weight, but this is offset by conceding the Saints the most speed. It is safe to predict that there will be lots of "pep" shown from whistle to whistle.

Jefferson is counting a lot on the work expected from individual stars. Rabenhorst at full, Pullen at tackle, Brock at half, and Bill-eaud at quarter are all capable players, and slightly better than any found in prep school circles. Then, too, Jefferson has "Wigs" Stream at end, who is figured good enough for university football.

On the other hand, St. Stanislaus' hope lies in team work and speed. As for stars, McKinney and Gannon at halves, Haber at quarter, and Martinez at guard are all above the average caliber. The Saints will use a fast, varied offense and expect their plays to give the Jeffersonians a great deal of trouble.

The presence of New Orleans boys on both elevens will add to the interest of the game locally. Streams of Jefferson formerly starred with Boys' High, while St. Stanislaus has eight local players. McKinney, Curtis, Reed and Gannon played with Jesuits' last year. Relsch and Lambou are from Boys' High, and Dabiezies and Lalla are former St. Aloysius players.

Both teams will enter the game minus one of their star players. Captain Nat Tyer of St. Stanislaus is out of the game with a twisted shoulder, received in the game with the Tulane Scrubs, while Vigarie of Jefferson, who scored against Tulane by a field goal, has left the un-state school. Both are succeeded by able substitutes.

The officials for the game are: "Tad" Gormley, Y. M. C. C., referee; Reilly, Boys' High, umpire; and Thibault, Jefferson, head linesman. No one will be allowed on the field without a badge. The line-up:

St. Stanislaus	Position	Jefferson
Moore	Right End	Streams
Dabiezies	Right Tackle	Seeler
Martinez	Right Guard	Miller
Reed	Center	Frage
Begnaud	Left Guard	Wilds
Curtis	Left End	Crowat
McKinney	Right Halfback	Bernhardt
Maher	Quarterback	Bill-eaud
Relsch	Fullback	Rabenhorst

St. Stanislaus Quintet Defeats Mobile 'Y' 46-43

Thrilling Game Lost by Local Basketball Shooters — Personal Fouls Add to Downfall.

In a game calculated to raise hair on a baldheaded man, the St. Stanislaus College basket ball quintette last night defeated the Mobile Y. M. C. A. five, 46 to 43. Baskets from midcourt, baskets from everywhere were thrown with dizzy rapidity by both teams, and the margin of difference between the basketeers was never as wide as the door to an all-night cafe.

The generalissimos of the court game charged and counter-charged, picked up their dead and wounded and renewed hostilities time and again and kept the battle in doubt until the referee's sharp blast told the dismal tale.

o o o

Fouls and Lack of Unity Costly.

Too much team work and no attention to personal fouls spelled defeat for Mobile. The visitors brought what looked to be rather a small bunch of players, but in the game they proved to be cemented into a team. This, with fouls by Mobile, kept the home time dribblers from hitting on all cylinders.

The audience all through the contest was kept on the anxious seat. Eight points was the highest that separated the teams at any one time, and generally it was either a tie or two or three points which marked the difference. The officials kept the game within bounds all the time and gave as good an exhibition of clear understanding of the fine points of the game as any one could ask. On the whole, last night's game will likely stand out as one of the closest and most evenly fought contests ever staged here.

Visitors Draw First Blood.

First blood was made by the visitors. Their center, Tycer (who, by the way, is an all-Southern center), threw the first basket, and then the game was on in earnest. A foul goal called on Deshon, but the goal was missed. Bru, shortly after, had the same chance and missed also. He then evened up the score with a pretty basket, but Tycer got loose at once and scored again. Bru had another chance at the foul line and made the point, and on a fast play secured another goal from the floor. Dabezies, not liking the way things were going, came in and made one of the prettiest shots of the evening. Bru got the two points back again with another goal, but the collegians worked some center plays and made two goals inside of one minute, making the game look with Crawford, then made two baskets and one foul goal, making the score tied at 11 all. From then on it was nip and tuck, both teams getting to 16 in a twinkling. Then, with a demonstration of the prettiest passing and team work of the evening, the collegians got to going and when the whistle ended the first half the score was 26 to 18 in their favor.

o o o

"Y" Boys Flash White Shirts.

When the Mobile men came on the floor ready for the second half, they had changed to their white shirts, and drew a round of applause from their favorites. Bru began the scoring for the final part of the game with a foul goal. Wilbert, with a one-hand shot, then scored, and then Steber got loose. Three baskets from all over the floor were made by Mobile's captain. Things looked brighter. At this point Bru was injured, but stayed in the game. Things looked darker. Right here came the break of the game: As soon as play was started again, the collegians found themselves and played a close covering game. Tycer made his sixth goal after this, and on the next play Midgette threw the longest goal of the evening. Tycer made a foul shot, and then Bru tied the score again. At this point the scorers called out Midgette for having four personal fouls called on him and Finkbohner was sent in his place. The game continued close and with eight more minutes to play, the score was 36 all. Tycer made his seventh basket, and soon one of his teammates added another, making the score 40-36. Baker showed himself to be in the game with a goal, but the collegians secured another basket immediately, making 42-36. Goals by Baker and Steber tied the St. Stanislaus team again. Two more minutes were to be played; Bru made a point on a foul, putting the locals in the lead, but Tycer tossed his eighth and last basket, and Shirer added another point with a free try. Splendid Schedule For Bay City Five

Foster Commagere has been busy at St. Stanislaus College at Bay St. Louis during the week with preliminary training for the track and field season. Many candidates for the team have been in harness.

Commagere has done something unusual at the college in arranging competition according to a weight basis. Many sprinters and track men have been out for practice during the week and every indication points to a successful track season.

A full schedule has been arranged in basketball. Challenges are coming in so rapidly that Commagere is afraid of not being able to take on all comers. The following games have been arranged:

January 17—Tulane at New Orleans.
January 19—Y. M. H. A. at Bay St. Louis.
January 27—Mobile Y. M. C. A. at Bay St. Louis.
February 3—New Orleans Y. M. C. A. at Bay St. Louis.
February 8—Gulf Coast at Gulfport.
February 19—Jefferson Military College at Bay St. Louis.
January 21—Southern University of Alabama at Bay St. Louis.

Communications have been sent to the prep schools of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana of the prep-school championships to be held at Bay St. Louis under the auspices of St. Stanislaus College during April. Many schools are expected to compete in this event.

Tulane Plays Bay Five Here Tonight

One of the best basketball games seen here this season is expected when Tulane meets St. Stanislaus in a return game at the university gym Wednesday night. In the game played Saturday the Bay team defeated the local five, 32-31. But Tulane is primed for the return fray Wednesday, and more is expected of Coach Shaughnessy's team in the return game.

The game will give local followers a line on Tulane's chances for a victory over Texas A. and M. in the game scheduled for January 20. Texas Aggies are the champions of the Southwest, and in them Tulane will have a stiff opponent for the opening of the collegiate series. If the Olive and Blue can get by this game it will be in a fine way to enjoy a successful season.

Tulane Five Loses 32-31 To Bay Five

Bay St. Louis, Jan. 13.—St. Stanislaus College basketball team defeated Tulane in a hard-fought contest at Bay St. Louis Saturday night, 32 to 31. From whistle to whistle the game was hotly contested, the Bay quintette barely nosing out the visiting team at the finish. The result was a severe upset. A large factor in the collegians' favor was the fact that they got away to an early start this season while the game was Tulane's third contest.

Moenck and Dabazies proved the stars for Tulane, Moenck scoring 4 field goals and 11 foul goals. Dabazies hooked 4 field goals.

Shiro and Wilbert starred for the local team. Shiro's feat of throwing 20 foul goals being the feature of the evening. The score:

Tulane Five Meets Bay College Here

When Tulane meets St. Stanislaus in a return game at the university gym Wednesday night the Olive and Blue basketball team will have an acid test. In the game played at Bay St. Louis Saturday, Foster Commagere's quintette showed that it is one of the best in this section, not only defeating Tulane 31-21, but displaying a strong, well balanced machine—one composed of several individual stars. But Tulane was not quite ready for the initial game and is expected to make a better showing against the Bay City team in Wednesday's game.

From all indications the game should be a hot one, and one that will put Tulane on edge for the game with the Texas Aggies Friday night. Commagere's team has played several games this season, defeating the strong Mobile Y. M. C. A. and several other good teams. In this respect, St. Stanislaus has the edge on Tulane, for the local team has played but three games this year. Then St. Stanislaus has Dabazies, Shiro, Tyler and Wilbert, a quartette of stars who compare favorably with the best Tulane has to offer.

Coach Shaughnessy and Manager McLeod of Tulane expect the Olive and Blue to show a great improvement in this game. Moenck, Legendre, Dabazies and other local stars are in the top of their form and are expected to show some stellar work in Wednesday's game.

The game will start at the gym at 8 o'clock prompt. The probable lineup: Tulane: Clay c, Legendre rg, McGraw lg, Moenck rf and Dabazies lf. St. Stanislaus: Shiro lf, Wilbert rf, Tyler c, Dabazies rg and Moore lg.

Tulane Five Counts 54-31 On Bay Team

Tulane showed its collegiate colors at the University Gym Wednesday night, decisively defeating St. Stanislaus, 54 to 31. From start to finish the game was replete with good play, and was voted one of the best basketball games seen here this season. The result came as the balm of revenge to the Tulane contingent, as the local five fell before St. Stanislaus 32 to 31 at Bay St. Louis last Saturday.

Tulane drew first blood when Moenck tossed a foul goal after two minutes of play. But after this score, and for the first part of the tussle, St. Stanislaus played an even game with the Olive and Blue five, the score seesawing at frequent intervals. However, Tulane showed its superiority in the last session, outplaying the Bay team and piling up a total of 54 points. St. Stanislaus stood a hard drive in the first half, but tired under the pace set by Tulane in the final stretch.

In the respect of fouls committed, Tulane showed a great improvement in this game over the one played Saturday. Of the 32 points scored by St. Stanislaus in the first game, 2 were the result of foul goals. In the fray last night Tulane held the visitors to eleven free tallies.

The entire Tulane team showed promise, and uncovered some fast team work. For individual honors, Clay, McGraw and Moenck stood slightly above their teammates. Moenck at forward, proved a deadly man with the ball, tossing ten field goals and eight fouls. Clay came in for six field goals, while McGraw stood out as the best guard on the floor. Legendre, a freshie, showed promise, but displayed a desire to leave his position and play forward at intervals. He also showed an unhappy faculty for committing fouls, seven being chalked against him.

Shirer, Tyser and Dabezies did much to uphold St. Stanislaus' end of the game. Shirer scored 19 points by individual play, throwing four field goals and eleven foul. Tyser connected for four field goals, while Dabezies played a strong defensive game.

The result of the game makes things look better for Tulane when she meets the Texas Aggies at the gym Saturday night. Manager McLeod has arranged a dance to follow the game Saturday and is looking for a large gallery.

TULANE GOAL SHOOTERS PLAY ST. STANISLAUS

Tulane's basketball team gets a chance to avenge themselves for the defeat administered the Olive and Blue in Bay St. Louis Saturday night, meeting the team from St. Stanislaus College at the Tulane Gym Wednesday night. Coach Shaughnessey is expecting his charges to furnish a better game and expects to win.

In the game last week, twenty of the points rolled up by the Bay team were the result of foul shots. In the game Wednesday the Tulane coach hopes to perfect his team for the contest this week-end with Texas A. & M.

Evers says he will retire in 1918. He doesn't need to wait that long if he mixes up with Bill Byron.

Here Is Forster Commagere's Squad ---One of the South's Best in All-Round Sports

Stanislaus Squad All-Round Sports

Bay St. Louis Team Proficient in Baseball, Basketball and on the Track

(By Fred Digby)

ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., has closed its most successful athletic season and has again finished with a record in the important branches of competition that outshines any rival prep school team in the south. Track, football, baseball, basketball and cross-country runs featured the St. Stanislaus activities.

The track team was a splendidly balanced one and was by far the strongest turned out by any prep school this season. The victory of the team in the Southern Prep School championship on April 28 was a decisive one, 63 points separating the St. Stanislaus team and the runner up, Warren Easton High.

Not a One-Man Team

Nathan Tyer, the track captain, was the individual star of the meet and a leader in other branches of sport. However, the impression that Forster Commagere had a one-man team in Tyer is not a correct one, for Nat scored only 23 points in the track championships, and Moore, Claverie, Gannon, Lopez, Stulh and some ten other athletes counted the balance, or 110 points.

Ed Curtis carried off the cross-country honors in rather convincing style. He won the St. Stanislaus and the St. Aloysius races, and in both events won handily and in near record time. There's little doubt that Curtis was the class of the prep school distance runners in the south.

In baseball, the St. Stanislaus team has done equally as well by winning 10 of 11 games played. Loyola University team alone is credited with a victory and this was retrieved at a later date.

Strong in Basketball

The basketball team continued its brilliant work of past seasons, though it played the leading quintettes of the south, including the Mobile Y. M. C. A., City champion Christians, Tulane University, and Southern University of Alabama. Two defeats were counted against the St. Stanislaus team—by Tulane and Mobile, but the score was evened.

Football was a new venture and the eleven finished the season with a creditable record, considering the conditions. Four of six games were won, the Jefferson College and Tulane Subs being the two teams to score victories against the St. Stanislaus team.

Athletics were in the charge of Brother Timothy and Forster Commagere, and their efforts are deserving of praise. The faculty, headed by Brother Berchman, have always been enthusiastic about athletics, and did their share of the good work. While Brother Ceron continued to make a success of entertaining the visiting athletes and officials.

ST. STANISLAUS' CRACK BASEBALL TEAM

Forster Commagere succeeded in developing a remarkably strong prep nine at St. Stanislaus College this year. The record includes only one game lost and that was to Loyola University by a 6-2 score. St. Stanislaus later defeated Loyola, 4-3. Standing left to right: E. Hymel, 1. f.; A. Ramon, 2nd b.; J. Hassinger, 1st b.; A. Ansley, r. f.; Nat. Tycer, r. f.; J. Miazza, catcher; E. Reed, r. f.; Forster Commagere, coach. Kneeling left to right: I. Shirer, 3rd b.; J. Hymel, p.; G. Moore, c. f.; Dave Keiffer, mascot; Andy Wilbert, (captain) pitcher Sid. Wolf, c. f.; R. Gannon, shortstop.

St. Stanislaus Ends Season Of Successful Athletics

When the 1916-1917 semester closed Saturday at St. Stanislaus College, the institution turned its back on one of the most successful athletic seasons in its history. Championships in all branches of sport—football, basketball, track and cross-country—were won by Stanislaus teams.

Though football was a new venture and the St. Stanislaus team was composed largely of green timber, the eleven won four of its six games.

The St. Stanislaus basketball squad was recognized, after a long string of victories and but two defeats, as one of the best in the South. Such teams as the Southern University of Alabama, the New Orleans Y. M. C. A. and City Champions were vanquished.

The track team not only was strong individually, but well-balanced, and is said to be one of the best Southern prep-school squads ever turned out. The Bay boys scored 135 points in the Southern Prep-School Track Championships at Bay St. Louis.

In cross-country St. Stanislaus competed in two runs and won both. Edward Curtis was victorious in these events, winning each in near record time.

Ten games won and one lost is the record made by the baseball team. Loyola University chalked the only defeat against the Stanislaus boys, and were beaten in a later game.

Captains elected for the different Stanislaus teams for next season are Frank Maher, Meridian, Miss.; football; Oliver Dabney, New Orleans, basketball; Graham Moore, Cahul-la, track; Edward Reed, New Orleans, baseball.

Coch Commagere believes that in Andy Wilbert he has one of the best young baseball players in the South. Wilbert pitched eleven games and turned in an average of eleven strike-outs.

IT has frequently been the contention of many people that schools and colleges which went into athletics on an intensive scale usually neglected much in the way of studies. The absurdity of such a contention has never been brought out in quite so excellent a manner as by the graduating class of the St. Stanislaus College.

Fifteen boys comprised the graduating class at the Bay St. Louis College and 14 of this number are athletes, and exceptionally good ones. The lone fifteenth did not participate in the various competitions but did play the usual games encouraged at the college such as baseball and basketball.

Cyril Claverie, valedictorian, was captain of the track team. Nat Tycer, an all around athlete of class, is salutatorian. The balance of the athlete-graduates include Wolfe, Curtis, Gannon, Lopez, Wilbert, Miazza, Hymel, Shirer, Shannon, Hassinger and Montelone all of whom have been prominent in either track, baseball, basketball, football or cross country events.

Coach Commagere is rather proud of the athletic record of the graduates while the faculty, which has always encouraged athletics among the students, is equally proud of the fact that those most proficient in athletics have proven the best scholars. The results are the most convincing argument for athletics in the schools of which we have ever heard.

Tulane Trounces Texas Visitors At Basketball

BY MAX M. SCHAUMBURGER.

Playing a peppery and fast game throughout, featured by the accuracy in field goal shooting of Dabazies, Tulane star forward, Shaughnessey's five got a good start for the intercollegiate basketball season by taking the measure of the Texas A. and M. five to the tune of 42 to 26 at the Tulane Gym Saturday night.

The two teams were evenly matched, with the exception of Dabazies, who outshone every man in individual play. The fast Tulane forward netted 8 of the total of 16 field goals for Tulane. Clay was next with three field goals and the others were divided among the rest of the players.

Settegast, the big Texas center, played the star game for the visitors. He and Gilfillan, A. and M. forward, each netted a total of four field goals.

Moenk, one of the Tulane star forwards, was unable to make a single field goal throughout the game, which went to show that the visitors played a covering game almost throughout. While during the first half the visitors were able to hold the score down to 17-14, it was Tulane that showed more pep and speed in the second half, which enabled them to run up such a big score. Freshie Legendre, who went in during the second half, showed great speed, while McGraw and Cass, Tulane guards, deserve lots of credit for protecting the basket.

One of the features of the game is the fact that the football captains of both Tulane and A. and M. are basketball players, McGraw for Tulane, while Settegast, center for the visitors, is captain of the Texas eleven. These men are due to meet again during next football season.

The score follows:

Texas A. & M.		Field Goals.	Foul Goals.	Fouls.

Tulane Freshmen Win Track Meet From Sophomores

The Tulane Freshmen took the interclass track contest from the Sophomores Wednesday afternoon at the Tulane stadium, 77-27. The classes now stand on even terms, each having won three of the six competitive events held so far. Whichever class wins the baseball game will be declared champion and permitted to paint the class number on the campus tank.

Winning three first and two seconds for a total of 21 points, Kenneth Capers starred for the Freshmen. Clifford Favrot, who is disqualified for the varsity because he ran for L. S. U. last year, won the high jump over Capers with a mark of 5 feet 5 inches without exertion. Another varsity material candidate, which the meet brought out, was Dabazies, a Freshmen, who threw the shot 36 feet 7 inches. He has made over 38 feet. He said Wednesday that he would compete next year for the varsity. Lewis Wakeman furnished one of the surprises of the meet by winning the half and mile runs. He ran the half in 2 minutes 17 seconds, with no previous training.

Winners in all events were:

100-Yards—Kenneth Capers, first; Chester O'Reilly, second; time, 10 4-5 seconds.
High Jump—Clifford Favrot, first; Kenneth Capers, second; height, 5 feet 5 inches.
Half Mile—Lewis Wakeman, first; J. Sinclair, second; time, 2 minutes 17 seconds.
220-Yard Dash—O'Reilly, first; L. Sharpp, second; time 25 flat.
Pole Vault—F. X. Bostick, first; C. Romain, second; height, 9 feet 1 inch.
High Hurdles—J. Schmidt, Jr., first; Bob Wiegand, second; time 18 1-5 seconds.

COLLEGES TO CLASH SATURDAY

Jefferson and St. Stanislaus Football Teams Meet at Heinemann Park This Afternoon.

With four local football teams playing on the road Saturday, the Jefferson-St. Stanislaus game at Heinemann Park occupies the local limelight. The game will start promptly at 3:15 in the afternoon. This will be the first time that these schools have met for several years, and both are confident of scoring a victory to celebrate the renewal of relationship.

Judging by the past performances of both teams it looks as though Jefferson has the edge on the Bay St. Louis eleven, although St. Stanislaus has a strong squad, and may spring a surprise. From all other angles, the teams seem evenly matched. Jefferson has the advantage of weight, but this is offset by conceding the Saints the most speed. It is safe to predict that there will be lots of "pep" shown from whistle to whistle.

Jefferson is counting a lot on the work expected from individual stars. Rabenhorst at full, Pullen at tackle, Brock at half, and Billeaud at quarter are all capable players, and slightly better than any found in prep school circles. Then, too, Jefferson has "Wigs" Stream at end, who is figured good enough for university football.

On the other hand, St. Stanislaus' hope lies in team work and speed. As for stars, McKinney and Gannon at halves, Maher at quarter, and Martinez at guard are all above the average caliber. The Saints will use a fast, varied offense and expect their plays to give the Jeffersonians a great deal of trouble.

The presence of New Orleans boys on both elevens will add to the interest of the game locally. Streams of Jefferson formerly starred with Boys' High, while St. Stanislaus has eight local players. McKinney, Curtis, Reed and Gannon played with Jesuits' last year. Reisch and Lambou are from Boys' High, and Dabiezies and Lalla are former St. Aloysius players.

Both teams will enter the game minus one of their star players. Captain Nat Tyner of St. Stanislaus is out of the game with a twisted shoulder, received in the game with the Tulane Scrubs, while Vigurie of Jefferson, who scored against Tulane by a field goal, has left the up-state school. Both are succeeded by able substitutes.

The officials for the game are: "Tad" Gormley, Y. M. C. C., referee; Reilly, Boys' High, umpire; and Thibault, Jefferson, head linesman. No one will be allowed on the field without a badge. The line-up:

St. Stanislaus	Position	Jefferson
Moore	Right End	Streams
Dabiezies	Right Tackle	Seeler
Martinez	Right Guard	Miller
Reed	Center	Fruge
Begneaud	Left Guard	Wilds
Curtis	Left End	Crozat
Maher	Quarterback	Billeaud
Reisch	Fullback	Rabenhorst

Class Wins For Jefferson

Rabenhorst And Stream Star

St. Stanislaus Outplayed From Start To Finish; Poor Crowd Sees Game

BY HARRY MARTINEZ.

Jefferson College outclassed the St. Stanislaus squad of Bay St. Louis Saturday before a small crowd at Heine-mann Park. The score ended 34 to 2, a safety in the third quarter saving the St. Stanislaus eleven from a shut-out.

Hardly more than three hundred spectators witnessed the contest which was uninteresting at times through the numerous time-outs, the game ending at dusk.

Rabenhorst, fullback for Jefferson was easily the star of the game. His ability to break through the St. Stanislaus defense and to pick his openings was responsible for a majority of the gains credited the Convent eleven. Of the five touchdowns scores, he was responsible for three.

Eldred Stream, the former High School boy, along with Brock, shared the honors with their team mate. Brock made a pretty broken field run of thirty-five yards which netted Jefferson their third touchdown. With good interference, he managed to zig zag his way through for the score.

Stream Kicks Four Goals For Jefferson.

Stream's toe never missed. In four attempts, he kicked goal from touch-down. Brock's failure to hold the ball instead of placing it on the ground after a punt out, probably cost his team another point. This happened in the fourth quarter after Rabenhorst had carried the ball over.

For St. Stanislaus, little Dick Gannon led the attack. The former Jesuit player was the most consistent gainer, fighting every inch of the way. Gannon was handicapped by a cut over his eye which bled considerably. The injury was the result of a collision between he and Begneaud, a team mate in the second period. Begneaud had to be taken out.

Poor passing by Reed from center

ball to within five yards of scoring distance and the latter took the oval over on a play off left tackle. After reaching within 10 yards of scoring a second time Jefferson was held for the fourth down with but a foot to go.

In the second quarter, Stream circled left end for twelve yards, and penalties against St. Stanislaus for holding and for being off side, put the ball on the latter's 15-yard line. Brock advanced the ball eight yards through the right side and Rabenhorst took it over for the second score on the next play. Stream made his successful kick for goal. And shortly after the ball was put in play, Brock made his broken field run of 35 yards for a touchdown. The half ended, Jefferson 21; St. Stanislaus 0.

Repeated penalties kept Jefferson from scoring in the third period.

Then in the fourth, Rabenhorst, Stream and Seeley started the march down the field on straight line plays which put them seven yards from their opponents' goal. Rabenhorst taking the oval over for the score a minute later through the left side. Then came Brock's bone on the punt out. Rabenhorst followed this up by a broken field run of twenty yards. Brock gained five yards through right side, one foot from St. Stanislaus' goal. Then Beale took it over for the touch-down.

St. Stanislaus was showing strong when the game ended twelve yards from Jefferson's line.

was a setback for St. Stanislaus. In the first period a pass to Rosenblath went over the latter's head and was recovered by Woodall on St. Stanislaus' twenty-yard line, paving the way for the first Jefferson touchdown.

Numerous attempts at the open game were made by St. Stanislaus but failed. Only twice was the Bay eleven able to advance to any extent through the open style, completing two successful passes, McKinney to Gannon, for 25 and 20 yards respectively, but this came just before the end of the first half.

Jefferson came within scoring distance twice. In the third period with six yards to go for a touchdown, McKinney attempted a forward pass over Jefferson's line without success. Opportunity was knocking at St. Stanislaus' door again in this period, but McKinney fumbled the ball out of bounds about two yards from the Jefferson line and was unable to recover before Woodall fell on the ball. It was after this play that Stream was held behind the line for a safety.

Pullen and Seeley, tackles on the Jefferson team played a good game. The former left the game in the third quarter, on account of injuries.

Jefferson suffered from numerous penalties. In the third period they suffered a loss of thirty yards for the kick registered by Lafleur, a Jesuit player on the side lines.

Saints Are Outclassed By Jefferson

Jefferson College scored an overwhelming victory over St. Stanislaus Saturday at Heinemann Park, piling up a score of 34 to 2. The Convent eleven had no trouble in piercing St. Stanislaus' line, and time and again the Jefferson backs would break through for gains. Jefferson scored in the first, second and fourth periods. St. Stanislaus' lone score was the result of a safety in the third quarter. Rabenhorst attempted to punt from behind the goal line, but the kick was blocked. Stream recovered, but was thrown for a safety.

Rabenhorst of Jefferson was the shining star through the game. The driving fullback made three of Jefferson's touchdowns, and was ever a threat when carrying the ball. With this player out of the game, St. Stanislaus would have probably held Jefferson to a much smaller score.

Gannon and McKinney featured for St. Stanislaus.

GETS GOOD START

The Convent eleven drew blood early in the first period. St. Stanislaus received the kick-off, and by a series of plays worked the ball to the center of the field. Here an open play was attempted but Center Reid made a bad slip by throwing the ball over McKinney's head. Jefferson recovered and followed the play up with a steady march for a touchdown. Rabenhorst scored from the five-yard line with a drive off-tackle. Stream kicked goal.

After the ball was again in play an exchange of punts netted Jefferson ten yards. Bucks by Rabenhorst and Brock brought the ball to the 35-yard line, where Brock broke loose on an end run and dashed through for a touchdown. Stream kicked goal. Rabenhorst scored Jefferson's third touchdown of the first half, carrying the ball over from the ten-yard line. Stream kicked goal, and the half ended, Jefferson 21, St. Stanislaus 0.

The third period found St. Stanislaus fighting desperately, and the ball was continually in Jefferson's territory. For a while a touchdown for the Saints seemed likely, but all chance was lost when McKinney fumbled on the three-yard line. Woodall of Jefferson recovered, and then came the Saints' two points, a blocked kick resulting in a safety.

WEIGHT TELLS TALE

The remainder of the game saw St. Stanislaus playing desperately, but the superior weight and stars of Jefferson was a little more than the Bay eleven could check. Touchdowns by Rabenhorst and Billeaud completed the scoring, and the game ended Jefferson 34, St. Stanislaus 2.

Frequent penalties marred the otherwise interesting game. Several 15-yard penalties were registered against Jefferson for holding, while on one occasion the Convent eleven was penalized thirty yards for disputing a decision. The Saints' penalties were the result of off-side plays.

While Rabenhorst and Brock were the Jefferson stars on the offense, "Wigs" Stream brought quite a little glory on his head by his all-round playing. McKinney and Gannon were the best ground gainers for the Saints, while Curtis, Ansley and Maher all played a strong game.

The game was devoid of spectacular

plays. Forward passing by St. Stanislaus was good, but not tried often enough to give Jefferson much trouble.

The line-up:

St. Stanislaus	Position	Jefferson
Reed	Center	Frugé
Begnaud	Left guard	Wilds
Martinez	Right guard	Miller
Dabazies	Right tackle	Seely
Moore	Right end	Woodall
Maher	Quarterback	Billeaud
McKinney	Right halfback	Stream
Rosenblat	Fullback	Rabenhorst

Substitutions: Jefferson, Rodriguez for Pullen. St. Stanislaus, Ansley for Curtis, Lopez for Begnaud. Time of quarters, 15 minutes. Officials: "Tad" Gormley, Y. M. G. C., referee; Reilly, B. H. S., umpire; Thibault, Jefferson, head linesman.

BAY COLLEGE PLAYS POPLARVILLE TODAY

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 29.—St. Stanislaus will meet the Pearl River Agricultural College here tomorrow. This should be the best game played in Bay St. Louis in years. The Poplarville farmers are husky and have made a splendid record this year. St. Stanislaus has only lost two games this season, to the Tulane scrubs and Jefferson.

Pearl River Loses To St. Stanislaus

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Nov. 30.—St. Stanislaus College ran over the Pearl River Agricultural High School here this afternoon, 50 to 0. An 80-yard run for a touchdown by Gannon was the feature. Manierl, Moore, Gannon and Maner starred for the local team, while Clark and Lee Steward played good ball for Pearl River.

The line-up:

St. Stanislaus—Moore and Curtis, left end; Blanchet, left tackle; Dabazies, left guard; Reed, center; Martinez, right guard; Tyer, right tackle; Ansley, right end; Maner, quarterback; Gannon, left halfback; McKinney, right halfback; Manierl, fullback.

St. Stanislaus Beats Gulf Coast 65 to 0

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 14.—St. Stanislaus College of Bay St. Louis overwhelmed Gulf Coast Military Academy here this afternoon 65-0. At no time did the Gulfport team threaten the locals' goal, while Commagere's fast back field tore through their opponents' line at will.

Long broken field runs by Tyer, Moore and McKinney featured the lopsided game. Time and again one of these men would streak through the Gulf Coast defense for long gains. McKinney made several beautiful runs, the longest of which was 70 yards for a touchdown. Moore, who substituted for Meells, made one touchdown on an 80-yard run, while Tyer registered another tally after a 60-yard run. Gulf Coast put up a hard fight, but was utterly outclassed.

St. Stanislaus will play its next game Wednesday afternoon, meeting the Tulane Scrubs at Bay St. Louis.

Banquet Given to Bay Team

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Dec. 17.—Saturday night the faculty of St. Stanislaus College entertained the members of the 1916 football squad at a banquet. Brother Cyron who enjoys the reputation of the best college chef in the South, outdid himself on this occasion, and the feast laid out before the members of the team, faculty members and guests surpassed anything ever before attempted by this great culinary artist.

The following players were awarded handsome fobs, miniature footballs, emblematic of the letters they so well earned: Dick Gannon, Frank Maher, Russell Manieri, Edward Reed, Edward McKinney, Nat. Tyer, Graham Moore, R. Martinez, O. Dabezies, M. Begnaud, Milton Blanchet, E. Curtis, F. E. Neelis, Jr., and Alvin Ansley.

The other members of the team who were present were Sidney Wolfe, Milton Reisch, Frank Lopez, Farrell Tircuit, Roy Kelley and Nick Lalla. Brother Timothy, manager, and Forster Commagere, coach.

Brother Berchmans, president of the college introduced Mr. Justin Green, prominent young lawyer of Bay St. Louis, an S. S. C. alumnus, who acted as toastmaster for the occasion.

The guests were: Father Brown, Brother Macarius, Brother Adelard, Emile Gex, Edward Edwards, Harry Boyle, William Lawler, Harry Glover, Charles Moreau and Mayor Capdepon.

Frank Maher, of Meridian, Miss., was the unanimous choice of the letter men for captain of the 1917 squad.

A vote of thanks was taken at the banquet for the help given the squad by the citizens of Bay St. Louis. Mayor Behrman of New Orleans, A. J. Heinemann and Dr. Frank Gomila who so courteously and kindly treated the S. S. C. boys who were hurt during the game with Jefferson College in New Orleans.

The members of the squad presented their coach with a handsome pair of gold link buttons as a token of their friendship to him.

St. Stanislaus Had Fine Basketball Record This Year

Foster Commagere, the genial but very earnest athletic director of St. Stanislaus College, is tired of hiding his light under a bushel. Foster has been turning out winners of all sorts right along and doing little crowing. But the way some of these other fellows claim things gets his dander up. So he is out with the following:

While Tulane, Louisiana State University and several other teams have been laying claim to championship honors, St. Stanislaus College has a record to offer for public inspection which is second to no other team in the South. To start with, St. Stanislaus College is nothing but a prep-school pure and simple, still due to the timidity of the other prep-schools in this section to secure games in basketball, like in football, we had to go out of our class and meet the best teams in Dixie. This we did and beat them all, the best that Tulane and the Mobile Y. M. C. A. could do was to hold us to a split, losing one and winning one from us.

Now as to our claim to recognition for championship honors. Tulane was beaten four straight by L. S. U., L. S. U. was beaten by Mobile Y. M. C. A. We beat Mobile Y. M. C. A. one game in Mobile and were beaten by them here by a narrow margin. Tulane we beat one game and lost one to them in New Orleans. Our efforts to secure a game with L. S. U., were unsuccessful. We wrote to them at the beginning of the season but could not get a game.

Then to wind up the season, we defeated the New Orleans Y. M. C. A., champions of the New Orleans Amateur Athletic Association League, by the overwhelming score of 38 to 26. A few days previous to playing us the C. A. team was just nosed out of a victory by Tulane. We then played the Southern University team at Greensboro, Ala., a great team averaging 165 pounds to the man, every player being over six feet in height, and defeated them by the score of 43 to 25.

St. Stanislaus College has the distinction of being probably the greatest scoring team in the South. As shown in the records, in eight games played the team made a total of 352 points or an average of exactly 44 points per game and that against the strongest Southern universities and club teams. This is not a matter of claim but an actual fact shown by cold figures. Had we played teams representing little country high schools and the like we would probably have had one of the heaviest scoring teams in the entire country.

Our title as Southern prep-school champions cannot be disputed, whereas we have as good a claim to Southern honors in all classes as any team during the past season.

Another feature of our team is the fact that we averaged 141 pounds to the man and were compelled to give away from 10 to 25 pounds to the man to practically every team we met. But Tyner, Wilbert, Hassinger, Dabozies, Moore, Curtis, Gannon, Ansley and Reddy, who composed the team, played as a team and made up in pass work and speed, not to mention fighting spirit, what they lacked in height and poundage. The nine men named above will receive their letters after Easter.

St. Stanislaus has had some good basketball teams in the past, but this is by far the greatest team that ever represented this institution and the greatest team I have ever handled.

The above is not intended as a claim or a boast, but a statement of actual facts and we leave the public to judge of our rights to championship honors.

ST. STAN HAS A STRONG CLAIM ON DIXIE TITLE

THE St. Stanislaus college basketball team has completed its season with a record of victories that would be a credit to any quintette and few will question the claim of the Southern prep school championship made in the interest of the team by Coach Forster Commagere.

Tulane, Mobile Y. M. C. A., Southern University and the city champion Y. M. C. A. teams were among the victims of the St. Stanislaus team. Most of the prep schools passed up offers for games but undaunted Commagere sent his boys against every one of the leading college and club quintettes, scoring 352 points in eight games.

The quintette is considered the best St. Stanislaus has boasted in its basketball history. It averages 141 pounds in weight and was composed of the following players—Tyceer (captain), Wilbert, Hassinger, Dabezies, Moore, Curtis, Gannon, Ansley and Reddy. Letters will be presented after Easter.

St. Stanislaus Defeats Ferrells

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Dec. 17.—The basketball teams of Ferrel's Military Institute of New Orleans and St. Stanislaus College met here today, the Bay boys winning by the score of 75 to 5. The New Orleans boys were considerably outweighed but put up a game fight. The lineup of the two teams follows:

S. S. C.: Shlrer and Moore, r. f.; Gannon and Wilbert, l. f.; Tyceer, c.; Dabezies and Reddy, l. g.; Ansley and Blanco, r. g.

Ferrells: Walsh and Chenet, f.; Cerda and Rosengarden, g.; Chenet, c.

Tuesday the St. Stanislaus College team will journey to Mobile, where it plays the strong Mobile Y. M. C. A. team. Mobile always turns out one of the strongest teams in the South and if the collegians can get by with this game, they bid fair to equal the record they established last year. The S. S. C. team this year will average about 145 pounds, and gives promise of being as good as last year's squad.

MAKES FINE RECORD FOR SEASON

Crack basketball team turned out at St. Stanislaus College under the direction of Foster Commagere. This team was head and shoulders above any prep school team and held its own with the big ones. St. Stanislaus Fit For Hard Battle With Jefferson

Reports from Bay St. Louis are that the St. Stanislaus College football team will put its strongest eleven on the field against Jefferson College at Heinemann Park Saturday afternoon.

With the exception of Captain and Fullback Nathan Tyer, who suffered a sprained shoulder in Friday's game against the Tulane second team, St. Stanislaus' regulars are said to be in the best of shape. Tyer will be on edge for Saturday's game. It is believed.

Jefferson also is nursing its fullback and star player, Rabenhorst, who's tared in the game here with Tulane, still retains scars of that fight, but it is not thought his injuries will keep him out of the Jefferson clash.

The game will start at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Officials have not been named yet, but they probably will be Halligan, Gormley and Walmsley.

Jefferson Plays Bay Team Here

Jefferson College of Convent and St. Stanislaus College of Bay St. Louis will meet Saturday afternoon at Heilmann Park to battle for the prep school championship of Louisiana and Mississippi.

St. Stanislaus has been "cleaning up" with all the teams it has met, and Coach Foster Commagere believes his squad can take the measure of the fast Jeffersonians. Jefferson, compelled to go out of its class for games, has been showing up exceptionally well against heavy university teams.

Considerable interest is being shown in the prep school race in the two states. Gulf Coast Military Academy was put out of the running early in the season by St. Stanislaus. St. Paul's College of Covington, Southwestern Industrial Institute of Lafayette and Ruston all have been in the running. The team which turns in the best record at the end of the season will be recognized as the championship squad.

The game Saturday is expected to bring together two well trained and speedy eleven's.

Saints Are Outclassed By Jefferson

Jefferson College scored an overwhelming victory over St. Stanislaus Saturday at Heinemann Park, piling up a score of 34 to 2. The Convent eleven had no trouble in piercing St. Stanislaus' line, and time and again the Jefferson backs would break through for gains. Jefferson scored in the first, second and fourth periods. St. Stanislaus' lone score was the result of a safety in the third quarter. Rabenhorst attempted to punt from behind the goal line, but the kick was blocked. Stream recovered, but was thrown for a safety.

Rabenhorst of Jefferson was the shining star through the game. The driving fullback made three of Jefferson's touchdowns, and was ever a threat when carrying the ball. With this player out of the game, St. Stanislaus would have probably held Jefferson to a much smaller score.

Gannon and McKinney featured for St. Stanislaus.

GETS GOOD START

The Convent eleven drew blood early in the first period. St. Stanislaus received the kick-off, and by a series of plays worked the ball to the center of the field. Here an open play was attempted but Center Reid made a bad slip by throwing the ball over McKinney's head. Jefferson recovered and followed the play up with a steady march for a touchdown. Rabenhorst scored from the five-yard line with a drive off-tackle. Stream kicked goal.

After the ball was again in play an exchange of punts netted Jefferson ten yards. Bucks by Rabenhorst and Brock brought the ball to the 35-yard line, where Brock broke loose on an end run and dashed through for a touchdown. Stream kicked goal. Rabenhorst scored Jefferson's third touchdown of the first half, carrying the ball over from the ten-yard line. Stream kicked goal, and the half ended, Jefferson 21, St. Stanislaus 0.

The third period found St. Stanislaus fighting desperately, and the ball was continually in Jefferson's territory. For a while a touchdown for the Saints seemed likely, but all chance was lost when McKinney fumbled on the three-yard line. Woodall of Jefferson recovered, and then came the Saints' two points, a blocked kick resulting in a safety.

WEIGHT TELLS TALE

The remainder of the game saw St. Stanislaus playing desperately, but the superior weight and stars of Jefferson was a little more than the Bay eleven could check. Touchdowns by Rabenhorst and Billeaud completed the scoring, and the game ended Jefferson 34, St. Stanislaus 2.

Frequent penalties marred the otherwise interesting game. Several 15-yard penalties were registered against Jefferson for holding, while on one occasion the Convent eleven was penalized thirty yards for disputing a decision. The Saints' penalties were the result of off-side plays.

While Rabenhorst and Brock were the Jefferson stars on the offense, "Wigs" Stream brought quite a little glory on his head by his all-round playing. McKinney and Gannon were the best ground gainers for the Saints, while Curtis, Ansley and Maher all played a strong game.

The game was devoid of spectacular

plays. Forward passing by St. Stanislaus was good, but not tried often enough to give Jefferson much trouble.

The line-up:

St. Stanislaus	Position	Jefferson
Reed	Center	Fruge
Begnaud	Left guard	Wilds
Martinez	Right guard	Miller
Dabazles	Right tackle	Seely

Substitutions: Jefferson, Rodriguez for Pullen. St. Stanislaus, Ansley for Curtis, Lopez for Begnaud. Time of quarters, 15 minutes. Officials: "Tad" Gormley, Y. M. G. C., referee; Reilly, B. H. S., umpire; Thibault, Jefferson, head linesman.

St. Stanislaus Outplayed From Start To Finish; Poor Crowd Sees Game

BY HARRY MARTINEZ.

Jefferson College outclassed the St. Stanislaus squad of Bay St. Louis Saturday before a small crowd at Helmenmann Park. The score ended 34 to 2, a safety in the third quarter saving the St. Stanislaus eleven from a shut-out.

Hardly more than three hundred spectators witnessed the contest which was uninteresting at times through the numerous time-outs, the game ending at dusk.

Rabenhorst, fullback for Jefferson was easily the star of the game. His ability to break through the St. Stanislaus defense and to pick his openings was responsible for a majority of the gains credited the Convent eleven. Of the five touchdowns scores, he was responsible for three.

Eldred Stream, the former High School boy, along with Brock, shared the honors with their team mate. Brock made a pretty broken field run of thirty-five yards which netted Jefferson their third touchdown. With good interference, he managed to zig zag his way through for the score.

Stream Kicks Four Goals For Jefferson.

Stream's toe never missed. In four attempts, he kicked goal from touchdown. Brock's failure to hold the ball instead of placing it on the ground after a punt out, probably cost his team another point. This happened in the fourth quarter after Rabenhorst had carried the ball over.

For St. Stanislaus, little Dick Gannon led the attack. The former Jesuit player was the most consistent gainer, fighting every inch of the way. Gannon was handicapped by a cut over his eye which bled considerably. The injury was the result of a collision between he and Begneaud, a team mate in the second period. Begneaud had to be taken out.

Poor passing by Reed from center

ball to within five yards of scoring distance and the latter took the oval over on a play off left tackle. After reaching within 10 yards of scoring a second time Jefferson was held for the fourth down with but a foot to go.

In the second quarter, Stream circled left end for twelve yards, and penalties against St. Stanislaus for holding and for being off side, put the ball on the latter's 15-yard line. Brock advanced the ball eight yards through the right side and Rabenhorst took it over for the second score on the next play. Stream made his successful kick for goal. And shortly after the ball was put in play, Brock made his broken field run of 35 yards for a touchdown. The half ended, Jefferson 21; St. Stanislaus 0.

Repeated penalties kept Jefferson from scoring in the third period.

Then in the fourth, Rabenhorst, Stream and Seeley started the march down the field on straight line plays which put them seven yards from their opponents' goal. Rabenhorst taking the oval over for the score a minute later through the left side. Then came Brock's bone on the punt out. Rabenhorst followed this up by a broken field run of twenty yards. Brock gained five yards through right side, one foot from St. Stanislaus' goal. Then Beale took it over for the touchdown.

St. Stanislaus was showing strong when the game ended twelve yards from Jefferson's line.

was a setback for St. Stanislaus. In the first period a pass to Rosenblath went over the latter's head and was recovered by Woodall on St. Stanislaus' twenty-yard line, paving the way for the first Jefferson touchdown.

Numerous attempts at the open game were made by St. Stanislaus but failed. Only twice was the Bay eleven able to advance to any extent through the open style, completing two successful passes, McKinney to Gannon, for 25 and 20 yards respectively, but this came just before the end of the first half.

Jefferson came within scoring distance twice. In the third period with six yards to go for a touchdown, McKinney attempted a forward pass over Jefferson's line without success. Opportunity was knocking at St. Stanislaus' door again in this period, but McKinney fumbled the ball out of bounds about two yards from the Jefferson line and was unable to recover before Woodall fell on the ball. It was after this play that Stream was held behind the line for a safety.

Pullen and Seeley, tackles on the Jefferson team played a good game. The former left the game in the third quarter, on account of injuries.

Jefferson suffered from numerous penalties. In the third period they suffered a loss of thirty yards for the kick registered by Lafleur, a Jesuit player on the side lines.

Jeff Scores Five Minutes After Kickoff.

Jefferson's first score was made after five minutes of play. Reed's bad pass from center put the ball on St. Stanislaus' 20-yard line from which Stream and Rabenhorst advanced the

St. Stanislaus Had Fine Basketball Record This Year

Foster Commagere, the genial but very earnest athletic director of St. Stanislaus College, is tired of hiding his light under a bushel. Foster has been turning out winners of all sorts right along and doing little crowing. But the way some of these other fellows claim things gets his dander up. So he is out with the following:

While Tulane, Louisiana State University and several other teams have been laying claim to championship honors, St. Stanislaus College has a record to offer for public inspection which is second to no other team in the South. To start with, St. Stanislaus College is nothing but a prep-school pure and simple, still due to the timidity of the other prep-schools in this section to secure games in basketball, like in football, we had to go out of our class and meet the best teams in Dixie. This we did and beat them all, the best that Tulane and the Mobile Y. M. C. A. could do was to hold us to a split, losing one and winning one from us.

Now as to our claim to recognition for championship honors. Tulane was beaten four straight by L. S. U.. L. S. U. was beaten by Mobile Y. M. C. A. We beat Mobile Y. M. C. A. one game in Mobile and were beaten by them here by a narrow margin. Tulane we beat one game and lost one to them in New Orleans. Our efforts to secure a game with L. S. U. were unsuccessful. We wrote to them at the beginning of the season but could not get a game.

Then to wind up the season, we defeated the New Orleans Y. M. C. A., champions of the New Orleans Amateur Athletic Association League, by the overwhelming score of 38 to 26. A few days previous to playing us the C. A. team was just nosed out of a victory by Tulane. We then played the Southern University team at Greensboro, Ala., a great team averaging 165 pounds to the man, every player being over six feet in height, and defeated them by the score of 43 to 25.

St. Stanislaus College has the distinction of being probably the greatest scoring team in the South. As shown in the records, in eight games played the team made a total of 352 points or an average of exactly 44 points per game and that against the strongest Southern universities and club teams. This is not a matter of claim but an actual fact shown by cold figures. Had we played teams representing little country high schools and the like we would probably have had one of the heaviest scoring teams in the entire country.

Our title as Southern prep-school champions cannot be disputed, whereas we have as good a claim to Southern honors in all classes as any team during the past season.

Another feature of our team is the fact that we averaged 141 pounds to the man and were compelled to give away from 10 to 25 pounds to the man to practically every team we met. But Tyner, Wilbert, Hassinger, Dabozies, Moore, Curtis, Gannon, Ansley and Reddy, who composed the team, played as a team and made up in pass work and speed, not to mention fighting spirit, what they lacked in height and poundage. The nine men named above will receive their letters after Easter.

St. Stanislaus has had some good basketball teams in the past, but this is by far the greatest team that ever represented this institution and the greatest team I have ever handled.

The above is not intended as a claim or a boast, but a statement of actual facts and we leave the public to judge of our rights to championship honors.

St. Stanislaus Quintet Defeats Mobile 'Y' 46-43

Thrilling Game Lost by Local Basketball Shooters — Personal Fouls Add to Downfall.

In a game calculated to raise hair on a baldheaded man, the St. Stanislaus College basket ball quintette last night defeated the Mobile Y. M. C. A. five, 46 to 43. Baskets from midcourt, baskets from everywhere were thrown with dizzy rapidity by both teams, and the margin of difference between the basketekers was never as wide as the door to an all-night cafe.

The generalissimos of the court game charged and counter-charged, picked up their dead and wounded and renewed hostilities time and again and kept the battle in doubt until the referee's sharp blast told the dismal tale.

o o o

Fouls and Lack of Unity Costly.

Too much team work and no attention to personal fouls spelled defeat for Mobile. The visitors brought what looked to be rather a small bunch of players, but in the game they proved to be cemented into a team. This, with fouls by Mobile, kept the home time dribblers from hitting on all cylinders.

The audience all through the contest was kept on the anxious seat. Eight points was the highest that separated the teams at any one time, and generally it was either a tie or two or three points which marked the difference. The officials kept the game within bounds all the time and gave as good an exhibition of clear understanding of the fine points of the game as any one could ask. On the whole, last night's game will likely stand out as one of the closest and most evenly fought contests ever staged here.

Visitors Draw First Blood.

First blood was made by the visitors. Their center, Tycer (who, by the way, is an all-Southern center), threw the first basket, and then the game was on in earnest. A foul goal called on Deshon, but the goal was missed. Bru, shortly after, had the same chance and missed also. He then evened up the score with a pretty basket, but Tycer got loose at once and scored again. Bru had another chance at the foul line and made the point, and on a fast play secured another goal from the floor. Dabezles, not liking the way things were going, came in and made one of the prettiest shots of the evening. Bru got the two points back again with another goal, but the collegians worked some center plays and made two goals inside of one minute, making the game look set showed over. But Bru, working with Crawford, then made two baskets and one foul goal, making the score tied at 11 all. From then on it was nip and tuck, both teams getting to 16 in a twinkling. Then, with a demonstration of the prettiest passing and team work of the evening, the collegians got to going and when the whistle ended the first half the score was 26 to 18 in their favor.

o o o

"Y" Boys Flash White Shirts.

When the Mobile men came on the floor ready for the second half, they had changed to their white shirts, and drew a round of applause from their favorites. Bru began the scoring for the final part of the game with a foul goal. Wilbert, with a one-hand shot, then scored, and then Steber got loose. Three baskets from all over the floor were made by Mobile's captain. Things looked brighter. At this point Bru was injured, but stayed in the game. Things looked darker. Right here came the break of the game: As soon as play was started again, the collegians found themselves and played a close covering game. Tycer made his sixth goal after this, and on the next play Midgette threw the longest goal of the evening. Tycer made a foul shot, and then Bru tied the score again. At this point the scorers called out Midgette for having four personal fouls called on him and Finkbohner was sent in his place. The game continued close and with eight more minutes to play, the score was 36 all. Tycer made his seventh basket, and soon one of his teammates added another, making the score 40-36. Baker showed himself to be in the game with a goal, but the collegians secured another basket immediately, making 42-36. Goals by Baker and Steber tied the St. Stanislaus team again. Two more minutes were to be played; Bru made a point on a foul, putting the locals in the lead, but Tycer tossed his eighth and last basket, and Shirer added another point with a free try. Tuesday the St. Stanislaus College team will journey to Mobile, where it plays the strong Mobile Y. M. C. A. team. Mobile always turns out one of the strongest teams in the South and if the collegians can get by with this game, they bid fair to equal the record they established last year. The S. S. Bay St. Louis, Jan. 13. St. Stanislaus College basketball team defeated Tulane in a hard-fought contest at Bay St. Louis Saturday night, 32 to 31. From whistle to whistle the game was hotly contested, the Bay quintette barely nosing out the visiting team at the finish. The result was a severe upset. A large factor in the collegians' favor was the fact that they got away to an early start this season while the game was Tulane's third contest.

Moenek and Dabazies proved the stars for Tulane, Moenek scoring 4 field goals and 11 foul goals. Dabazies hooked 4 field goals.

Shiro and Wilbert starred for the local team. Shiro's feat of throwing 20 foul goals being the feature of the evening. The score:

Tulane Plays Bay Five Here Tonight

One of the best basketball games seen here this season is expected when Tulane meets St. Stanislaus in a return game at the university gym Wednesday night. In the game played Saturday the Bay team defeated the local five, 32-31. But Tulane is primed for the return fray Wednesday, and more is expected of Coach Shaughnessy's team in the return game.

The game will give local followers a line on Tulane's chances for a victory over Texas A. and M. in the game scheduled for January 20. Texas Aggies are the champions of the Southwest, and in them Tulane will have a stiff opponent for the opening of the collegiate series. If the Olive and Blue can get by this game it will be in a fine way to enjoy a successful season.

Tulane Five Meets Bay College Here

When Tulane meets St. Stanislaus in a return game at the university gym Wednesday night the Olive and Blue basketball team will have an acid test. In the game played at Bay St. Louis Saturday, Foster Commagere's quintette showed that it is one of the best in this section, not only defeating Tulane 31-21, but displaying a strong, well balanced machine—one composed of several individual stars. But Tulane was not quite ready for the initial game and is expected to make a better showing against the Bay City team in Wednesday's game.

From all indications the game should be a hot one, and one that will put Tulane on edge for the game with the Texas Aggies Friday night. Commagere's team has played several games this season, defeating the strong Mobile Y. M. C. A. and several other good teams. In this respect, St. Stanislaus has the edge on Tulane, for the local team has played but three games this year. Then St. Stanislaus has Dabazies, Shiro, Tyer and Wilbert, a quartette of stars who compare favorably with the best Tulane has to offer.

Coach Shaughnessy and Manager McLeod of Tulane expect the Olive and Blue to show a great improvement in this game. Moenck, Legendre, Dabazies and other local stars are in the top of their form and are expected to show some stellar work in Wednesday's game.

The game will start at the gym at 8 o'clock prompt. The probable lineup: Tulane: Clay c, Legendre rg, McGraw lg, Moenck rf and Dabazies lf. St. Stanislaus: Shiro lf, Wilbert rf, Tyer c, Dabazies rg and Moore lg.

TULANE GOAL SHOOTERS PLAY ST. STANISLAUS

Tulane's basketball team gets a chance to avenge themselves for the defeat administered the Olive and Blue in Bay St. Louis Saturday night, meeting the team from St. Stanislaus College at the Tulane Gym Wednesday night. Coach Shaughnessey is expecting his charges to furnish a better game and expects to win.

In the game last week, twenty of the points rolled up by the Bay team were the result of foul shots. In the game Wednesday the Tulane coach hopes to perfect his team for the contest this week-end with Texas A. & M.

Evers says he will retire in 1918. He doesn't need to wait that long if he mixes up with Bill Byron.

Tulane Five Counts 54-31 On Bay Team

Tulane showed its collegiate colors at the University Gym Wednesday night, decisively defeating St. Stanislaus, 54 to 31. From start to finish the game was replete with good play, and was voted one of the best basketball games seen here this season. The result came as the balm of revenge to the Tulane contingent, as the local five fell before St. Stanislaus 32 to 31 at Bay St. Louis last Saturday.

Tulane drew first blood when Moenck tossed a foul goal after two minutes of play. But after this score, and for the first part of the tussle, St. Stanislaus played an even game with the Olive and Blue five, the score seesawing at frequent intervals. However, Tulane showed its superiority in the last session, outplaying the Bay team and piling up a total of 54 points. St. Stanislaus stood a hard drive in the first half, but tired under the pace set by Tulane in the final stretch.

In the respect of fouls committed, Tulane showed a great improvement in this game over the one played Saturday. Of the 32 points scored by St. Stanislaus in the first game, 2 were the result of foul goals. In the fray last night Tulane held the visitors to eleven free tallies.

The entire Tulane team showed promise, and uncovered some fast team work. For individual honors, Clay, McGraw and Moenck stood slightly above their teammates. Moenck at forward, proved a deadly man with the ball, tossing ten field goals and eight fouls. Clay came in for six field goals, while McGraw stood out as the best guard on the floor. Legendre, a freshman, showed promise, but displayed a desire to leave his position and play forward at intervals. He also showed an unhappy faculty for committing fouls, seven being chalked against him.

Shirer, Tyceer and Dabezies did much to uphold St. Stanislaus' end of the game. Shirer scored 19 points by individual play, throwing four field goals and eleven foul. Tyceer connected for four field goals, while Dabezies played a strong defensive game.

The result of the game makes things look better for Tulane when she meets the Texas Aggies at the gym Saturday night. Manager McLeod has arranged a dance to follow the game Saturday and is looking for a large gallery.

St. Stanislaus Loses Game to Mobile Y. M. C. A.

Bay St. Louis, Jan. 27.—St. Stanislaus College lost a hard-fought basketball game to the Mobile Y. M. C. A. five here tonight 43 to 36. The game was seen by a large crowd of rooters for both teams, and was cleanly played throughout.

At the end of the first half the Mobile team was leading by a score of 19 to 12. From this point on the Bay team fought desperately, but could not overcome the Christians' lead. Philipps played the best game for the Mobile team, while Wilbert, Dabazies and Moore starred for St. Stanislaus. The Bay team uncorked some good pass work, and Coach Commagere is confident of winning from the New Orleans Y. M. C. A. when the two teams meet at the Bay next Saturday.

Loyola Is Beaten By St. Stanislaus

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Feb. 4.—St. Stanislaus basketball team defeated Loyola University team of New Orleans in a one-sided game here today, 50 to 14. Loyola displayed pretty pass work at times, but the work of Curtis, Moore, Reddy and Ansley, the St. Stanislaus guards, kept their forwards away from the basket. Nat Tyer of the Bay team regained his form in this game and managed to cage nine field goals. Dabezies and Wilbert, at forwards, also did some good work. In the last half the local team used all of its reserve players. For Loyola, Le Blanc and Agin did the best work.

Bay College Five Beats Southern University 43-25

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Feb. 21.—St. Stanislaus College outclassed Southern University of Greensboro, Ala., at basketball in a fast and exciting game here tonight, winning by the score of 43 to 25. Although outweighed twenty-five pounds to the man, the local collegians played rings around the Alabama goal tossers and had the game well in hand at all times. The speed and teamwork of the St. Stanislaus boys showed to great advantage against the heavier men. The visitors were rough at times but the game passed off satisfactorily. The remarkable foul goal tossing of Moore, St. Stanislaus guard, was the feature of the game. He dropped the ball in the basket in fifteen out of seventeen trials. Score:

The St. Stanislaus basketball team defeated the Y. M. C. A. team by a score of 38 to 26 at St. Stanislaus court tonight. The game was a struggle by both teams from whistle to whistle. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 14 to 13 in favor of St. Stanislaus, but the home boys opened the second quarter with a rush and piled up a score that the visitors were unable to overcome.

The work at center of N. Tyceer and Viscarra of the locals alone with excellent passing of the St. Stanislaus team were easily the features of the game. A large crowd witnessed the game.

SOUTHERN PREP SCHOOL CHAMPIONSHIP

A STRONG CLAIM ON DIXIE TITLE

THE St. Stephens College football team has a strong claim on the title of Southern prep school champion made in the history of the sport by Coach Horace H. Hargrave.

Following the 1935 season, the team has won the title of Southern prep school champion for the third time. Most of the prep schools played in the Southern prep school championship, but the St. Stephens team was the only one to win the title.

The team is coached by Coach Hargrave, who has won the title of Southern prep school champion for the third time. The team has won the title of Southern prep school champion for the third time.

ST. STAN HAS A STRONG CLAIM ON DIXIE TITLE

THE St. Stanislaus college basketball team has completed its season with a record of victories that would be a credit to any quintette and few will question the claim of the Southern prep school championship made in the interest of the team by Coach Forster Commagere.

Tulane, Mobile Y. M. C. A., Southern University and the city champion Y. M. C. A. teams were among the victims of the St. Stanislaus team. Most of the prep schools passed up offers for games but undaunted Commagere sent his boys against every one of the leading college and club quintettes, scoring 352 points in eight games.

The quintette is considered the best St. Stanislaus has boasted in its basketball history. It averages 141 pounds in weight and was composed of the following players—Tyceer (captain), Wilberl, Hassinger, Dahezies, Moore, Curtis, Gauron, Ansley and Reddy. Letters will be presented after Easter.

Splendid Schedule For Bay City Five

Foster Commagere has been busy at St. Stanislaus College at Bay St. Louis during the week with preliminary training for the track and field season. Many candidates for the team have been in harness.

Commagere has done something unusual at the college in arranging competition according to a weight basis. Many sprinters and track men have been out for practice during the week and every indication points to a successful track season.

A full schedule has been arranged in basketball. Challenges are coming in so rapidly that Commagere is afraid of not being able to take on all comers. The following games have been arranged:

January 17—Tulane at New Orleans.

January 19—Y. M. H. A. at Bay St. Louis.

January 27—Mobile Y. M. C. A. at Bay St. Louis.

February 3—New Orleans Y. M. C. A. at Bay St. Louis.

February 8—Gulf Coast at Gulfport.

February 19—Jefferson Military College at Bay St. Louis.

January 21—Southern University of Alabama at Bay St. Louis.

Communications have been sent to the prep schools of Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana of the prep-school championships to be held at Bay St. Louis under the auspices of St. Stanislaus College during April. Many schools are expected to compete in this event.

ACCOLADES FOR FORSTER COMMAGERE

in Baseball, Basketball and on the Track

(By Fred Digby)

ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., has closed its most successful athletic season and has again finished with a record in the important branches of competition that outshines any rival prep school team in the south. Track, football, baseball, basketball and cross-country runs featured the St. Stanislaus activities.

The track team was a splendidly balanced one and was by far the strongest turned out by any prep school this season. The victory of the team in the Southern Prep School championship on April 28 was a decisive one, 63 points separating the St. Stanislaus team and the runner up, Warren Easton High.

Not a One-Man Team

Nathan Tyner, the track captain, was the individual star of the meet and a leader in other branches of sport. However, the impression that Forster Commagere had a one-man team in Tyner is not a correct one, for Nat scored only 28 points in the track championships, and Moore, Claverie, Gannon, Lopez, Stulb and some ten other athletes counted the balance, or 110 points.

Ed Curtis carried off the cross-country honors in rather convincing style. He won the St. Stanislaus and the St. Aloysius races, and in both events won handily and in near record time. There's little doubt that Curtis was the class of the prep school distance runners in the south.

In baseball, the St. Stanislaus team has done equally as well by winning 10 of 11 games played. Loyola University team alone is credited with a victory and this was retrieved at a later date.

Strong in Basketball

The basketball team continued its brilliant work of past seasons, though it played the leading quintettes of the south, including the Mobile Y. M. C. A., City champion Christians, Tulane University, and Southern University of Alabama. Two defeats were counted against the St. Stanislaus team—by Tulane and Mobile, but the score was evened.

Football was a new venture and the eleven finished the season with a creditable record, considering the conditions. Four of six games were won, the Jefferson College and Tulane Subs being the two teams to score victories against the St. Stanislaus team.

Athletics were in the charge of Brother Timothy and Forster Commagere, and their efforts are deserving of praise. The faculty, headed by Brother Berchman, have always been enthusiastic about athletics, and did their share of the good work. While Brother Ceron continued to make a success of entertaining the visiting athletes and officials.

IT has frequently been the contention of many people that schools and colleges which went into athletics on an intensive scale usually neglected much in the way of studies. The absurdity of such a contention has never been brought out in quite so excellent a manner as by the graduating class of the St. Stanislaus College.

Fifteen boys comprised the graduating class at the Bay St. Louis College and 14 of this number are athletes, and exceptionally good ones. The lone fifteenth did not participate in the various competitions but did play the usual games encouraged at the college such as baseball and basketball.

Cyril Claverie, valedictorian, was captain of the track team. Nat Tyceer, an all around athlete of class, is salutatorian. The balance of the athlete-graduates include Wolfe, Curtis, Gannon, Lopez, Wilbert, Miazza, Hymel, Shirer, Shannon, Hassinger and Montelone all of whom have been prominent in either track, baseball, basketball, football or cross country events.

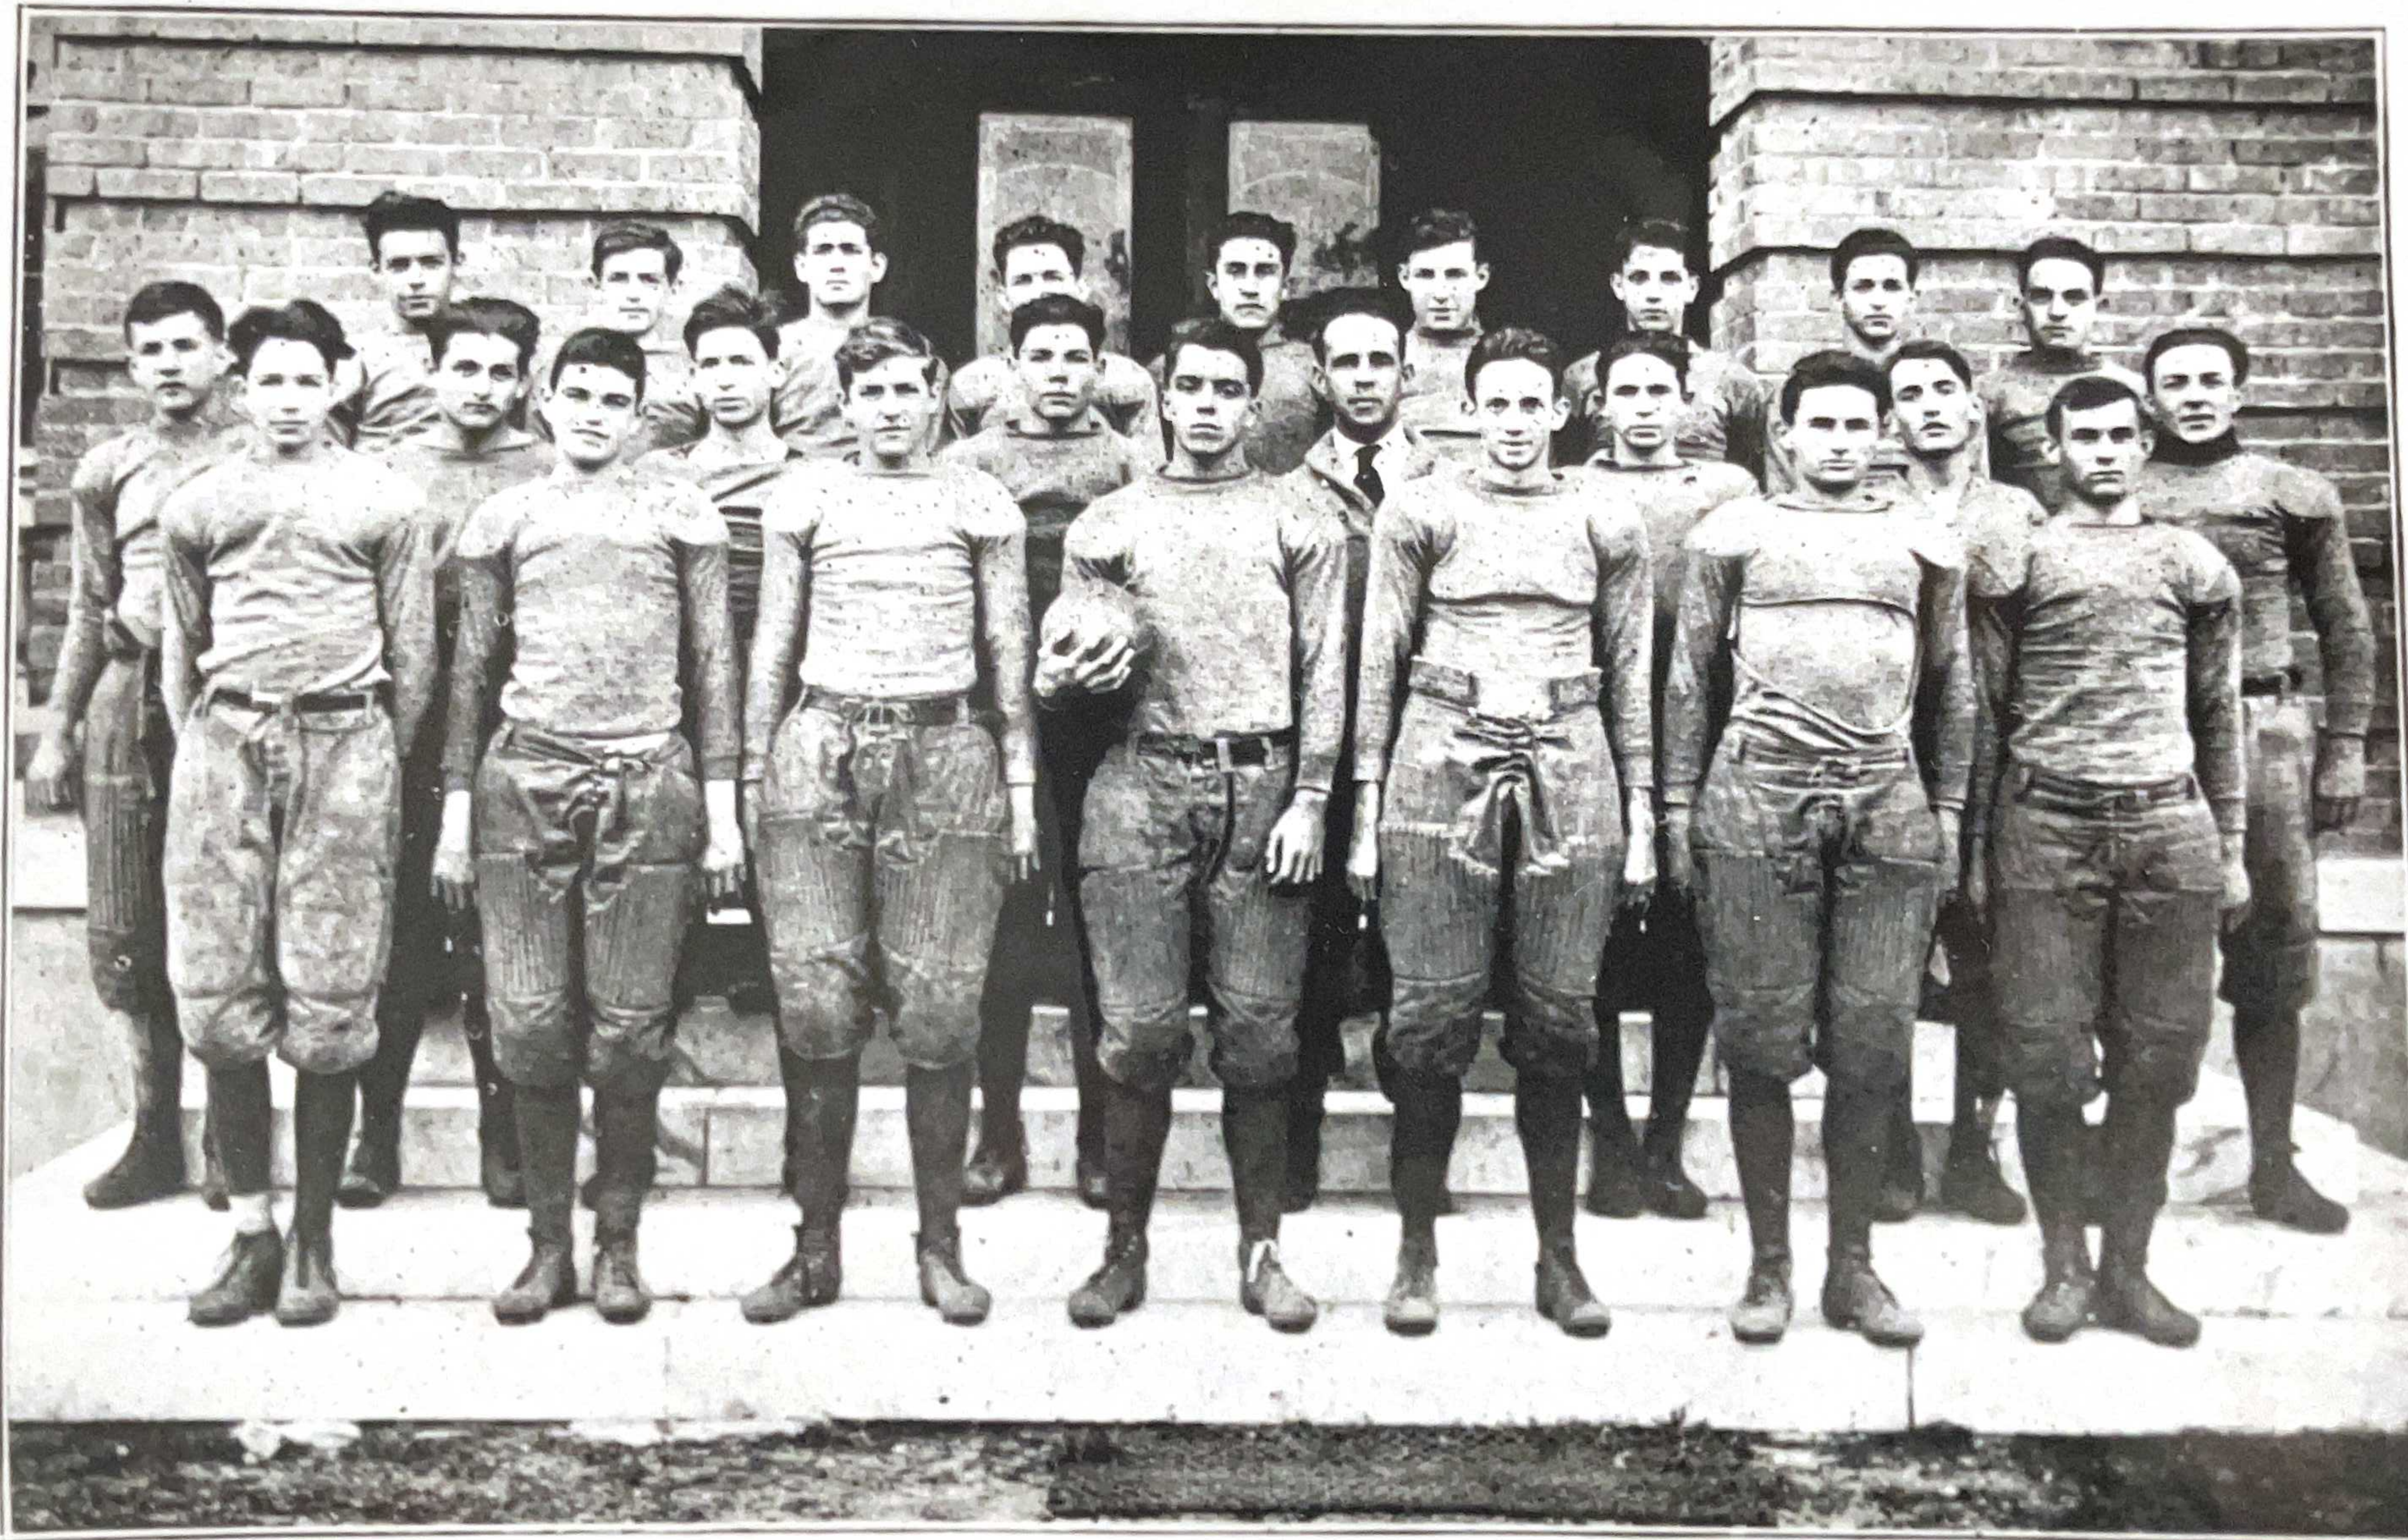

Coach Commagere is rather proud of the athletic record of the graduates, while the faculty, which has always encouraged athletics among the students, is equally proud of the fact that those most proficient in athletics have proven the best scholars. The results are the most convincing argument for athletics in the schools of which we have ever heard.

Blaize's Trophies Now In Archives

By Ray Sheehy '48

Recently, Mrs. Victor Blaize visited the campus and returned two cups that were awarded to her husband, Victor Blaize, class of 1918. "Buddy" Blaize won the cups as the Gulf Coast distant runner in 1918 and 1919. Both of the cups will be a permanent part of the archives. They are just some of the over 1300 items that are now registered and stored in the St. Stanislaus Archives. A data base has been established to facilitate research.

Weekly items are donated by alumni and families of alumni. The room set aside for the Archives is quickly becoming a good research center. As an alumnus, each of you is encouraged to donate items to supplement the Archives which stores letters from students (earliest dated 1854), student papers, accomplishments, sports award items, jackets, and jerseys. In fact, your store room is the place to start. Look in those old shoe boxes, cigar boxes, trunks — wherever you put those special things from the past. Let the SSC Archives store them permanently with care and preservation techniques of a proper archives.

The next time you are in the area, drop in and visit the Archives Room. It is located at the north end of the Hall of Fame. Most of all, come visit the school and see the modern St. Stanislaus College Prep. Archival memorabilia is on display in the case in the hallway joining the Mall with the Hall of Fame. This display is changed each Friday. Join us for Homecoming and see the display.

Plan to attend the annual reunion in February 1997 and come a day or two early to see the Archives. Ray Sheehy, class of 1948, is managing the Archives. Additional volunteer help is needed; please call the school to volunteer.

Victor (Buddy) Blaize '18, seated left, won the tall center trophy which his widow, Mrs. Leone Blaize of New Orleans, recently donated to the Archives. The other members of the track team were Milton Phillips, captain; Robert Stulb, William Stack, Oliver Dabezies, Nicholas Lala, Paul Maestri, Gordon Reddy, Fritz Schutt, Bernard Beaulieu, Coty Rosenblath, Emmett Kergosien, Frank Sunseri, Kenneth Moise, Pierro Roy and J. Stone Ware with Foster Commagere (top right), coach.
